Coleman 2 Burner Dual Fuel Portable Stove

Runs on specialised Coleman Liquid Fuel or Unleaded Petrol (not inc.), Perfect for festivals where 'no gas cookers' rules apply or for family camping trips to eliminate the need for bulky gas canisters. Its sturdy embossed steel self-contained carry case makes this a durable, sturdy portable stove that can be safely stored and transported. It comes with a fuel filter funnel to easily fill the tank with fuel and filter out dirt and sediment. The stove can run for approximately 2 hours on a full tank. The fuel reservoir easily clips on the front of the stove and the fuel rod enters into the primary burner on the right side. To use the second burner simply flip the butterfly switch on the left side. Adjustable wind shields are built into the lid of the unit to cover both sides of the stove with the lid standing up. The 21,000 BTUs of heat provided by the adjustable burners are almost equivalent to a domestic gas stove, meaning it can boil 1 litre of water in approximately 4 minutes.

With the stove and fuel reservoir turned off and all cooled after use the fuel tank can be popped under the grill for storage, the wind shields unclipped and folded down and the lid clipped shut for a self-contained carry case with a small handle.
